

Darker shading: higher joint density.

Fix $x = x_0$
and normalize

$$m(x_0) = \int y p(y \mid x_0) dy$$

The mean need not be the most likely output.